

Act Report

- First insight and visualization

The possible relationship between number of retweets and the dog rate, my first intuition is that it's a strong positive correlation!

-Figure

-Result

Apparently, there is no clear relationship between retweets count and rating.

- Second insight and visualization

Again, it's all about the possible relationship between number of retweets and the dog rate, my first intuition is that it's a strong positive correlation!

-Result

But again, there is no clear relationship between retweets count and rating.

- Third insight and visualization

It's all about observing the most repeated gods breeds that are being rated.

-Figure

-Result

The golden retriever and Pembroke seem to have the most count of rated dogs!
